MENTORING OF STUDENTS

I have supervised five undergraduate and master's students during their theses in France and Spain. Most recently, I mentored Angèle Moulin (Université de Caen Normandie, 2023-2024) and Géo Bujard (Sorbonne Université, 2023-2024) during their master's thesis. Earlier, I supervised the undergraduate theses of Andrea E. Arias Díaz (Universidade de Santiago de Compostela, 2020-2021), who received an award for her degree thesis, Ana Copena Soutelo (U. de Santiago de Compostela, 2019-2020), the master thesis of Iago Otero Coto (Universidade da Coruña, 2019-2020), and the international student Artemisia Ntoulia (University of Patras, Greece) during an Erasmus internship at U. de Santiago de Compostela (summer 2019). These experiences have allowed me to support early-career researchers while contributing to the scientific project that I was carrying out at that moment.

HIGH EDUCATION TEACHING

I have gained teaching experience (132.5 certified teaching hours) at five public universities across four countries (Spain, UK, France, and Chile), delivering theoretical and laboratory sessions in different languages (English, Spanish/Galician, and French) to undergraduate and master's students across fields such as Biology, Medicine, and Bioinformatics.
